Budding Friends project was finalist in the National Dementia Care Awards

Budding Friends supports families and those with a recent diagnosis of dementia and runs dementia friendly activity sessions every week.

Thank you to everyone who sent good luck messages to us and to Penny Unitt. We didn't win the award but Penny had a great few days at the Dementia Congress 2019 and she told us that the awards ceremony was fantastic. She said how wonderful is to see the amazing work that's going on supporting people living with dementia. Keep up the good work Penny and thanks to all the volunteers who make Budding Friends such a special project.
