Subject Access Requests – Policy and Procedure

All Age UK Barnet staff and volunteers have received guidance on how to process a subject to access request.

Under certain circumstances, the law grants specific rights to the individual –referred to below and here ‘individual’ can apply to staff, volunteers, clients and specific third parties eg the holder of an LPA – Lasting Power of Attorney. These are summarised below. Please note that these rights may be limited and subject to restrictions in certain situations:

- Request access to personal information (commonly known as a “data subject access request”). This enables an individual to receive a copy of the personal information we hold about them and to check that we are lawfully processing it.
- Request correction of the personal information that we hold. This enables an individual to have any incomplete or inaccurate information we hold about them corrected.
- Request erasure of personal information. This enables an individual to ask us to delete or remove personal information where there is no good reason for us continuing to process or hold it. People also have the right to ask us to delete or remove personal information where they have exercised their right to object to processing (see below).
- Object to processing of personal information where we are relying on a legitimate interest (or those of a third party) and there is something about an individual’s particular situation which makes them want to object to processing on this ground.
- Request the restriction of processing of personal information. This enables an individual to ask us to suspend the processing of personal information about them, for example, if they want us to establish its accuracy or the reason for processing it.
- Request the transfer of personal information to another party.

If an individual wishes to review, verify, correct or request erasure of their personal information, object to the processing of personal data, or request that we transfer a copy of personal information to another party, please contact the appointed Data Controller – Helen Newman, Chief Executive at Age UK Barnet.

How individuals can access and update their information

If an individual would like to access a copy of the data we hold about them, They should do so by sending their request in writing to Age UK Barnet, Data Controller, Ann Owens Centre, Oak Lane, London N2 8LT or send an email for the attention of the Data Controller to info@ageukbarnet.org.uk. Your request will be processed within 30 days. If you require further information on accessing your data please contact the Data Controller on 0208 203 5040.

No fee required

There is no fee payable to access personal information (or to exercise any of the other rights).

What we will need from the individual

We will need to request specific information from the individual to help us confirm their identity and ensure their right to access the information (or to exercise any of their other rights). This is another appropriate security measure to ensure that personal information is not disclosed to any person who has no right to receive it.

Right to withdraw consent

In any circumstances where an individual may have provided consent to the collection, processing and transfer of personal information for a specific purpose, they have the right to withdraw consent for that specific processing at any time. If an individual wishes to withdraw consent, they should contact the appointed Data Controller – Helen Newman, Chief Executive at Age UK Barnet. Once we have received notification that they have withdrawn consent we will no longer process their information for the purpose or purposes they originally agreed to, unless we have another legitimate basis for doing so in law.

Personal data breaches

All staff and volunteers have received guidance on how to recognise a personal data breach. The response plan for addressing any personal data breaches have been put in place. Any breach would be escalated to the Data Controller or a member of the senior management team. Personal data breaches will be reported to the ICO within 72 hours.

What is a personal data breach?

A personal data breach means a breach of security leading to the accidental or unlawful destruction, loss, alteration, unauthorised disclosure of, or access to, personal data. This includes breaches that are the result of both accidental and deliberate causes. It also means that a breach is more than just about losing personal data.

Personal data breaches can include:

- access by an unauthorised third party;
- deliberate or accidental action (or inaction) by a controller or processor;
- sending personal data to an incorrect recipient;
- computing devices containing personal data being lost or stolen;
- alteration of personal data without permission; and
- loss of availability of personal data.

A personal data breach can be broadly defined as a security incident that has affected the confidentiality, integrity or availability of personal data. In short, there will be a personal data breach whenever any personal data is lost, destroyed, corrupted or disclosed; if someone accesses the data or passes it on without proper authorisation; or if the data is made unavailable, for example, when it has been encrypted by ransomware, or accidentally lost or destroyed.

Recital 87 of the GDPR makes clear that when a security incident takes place, you should quickly establish whether a personal data breach has occurred and, if so, promptly take steps to address it, including telling the ICO if required.

Data Retention

We will hold data for seven years before it is securely destroyed or erased from Charity Log.
