

Urban Tree Festival 2025

Join us for our FREE events celebrating trees, nature, and community – exclusively for City of London residents, in partnership with the City of London

William Blake Estate Urban Ecology Walk

Saturday 10th May | 6.00pm – 8.00pm (Refreshments 8.00pm to 8.30pm)

Meeting at the Pineapple Pub. Join Walk Leaders Charlie Fox from Inspirallondon and artist Rachel Gomme on a gentle Urban Ecology and Tree Walk, exploring the vital role trees play within the urban environment. We will celebrate street trees and specimen trees found within the William Blake Estate, along the adjacent streets

Slow Mindful Tree Walk

Tuesday 13th May | 10.30–11.15am + Coffee

Meet at Fortune Park (Giddy Up Coffee Stand.) Take a gentle stroll with Age UK City of London and cultural historian Chris Schüler author of 'The Wood That Built London' as we explore local trees through mindful walking. A peaceful start to your day with time to chat and connect afterwards over coffee.

Holloway Estate Mindful Tree Walkshop

Wednesday 14 May | 6.00pm – 8.00pm

Meeting at Holloway Estate Community Centre. Clare Barry from Urban Curiosity invites you to a relaxed and fun gathering on the estate, she will guide you through Forest Bathing and creative activities inspired by the natural world via mindfulness, gentle movement and creative prompts. All welcome, free drinks and snacks.

Foraging Walk for City Women

Thurs 15th May | 10.30am – 2/2.30pm (arrive back 3/3.30pm)

Departing from Mansell Street Estate. Join with Age UK City of London for a Coach trip to Sydenham Hill Woods. For a special day out, seasonal urban forager Theresa Webb from Kitchen Buddy invites you to reconnect with nature and traditional food knowledge. Includes a woodland walk and tree education. Bring a shared picnic lunch.

City Tree Walk – Trees of Caledonian Park

Friday 16th May | 11.00am – 12.30pm + Coffee

Meeting at Caledonian Road tube station, join with Age UK City of London and Phil Paulo Director of London Tree Ring (CPRE London) open to all, this relaxed walk guides us through the trees of Caledonian Park and surrounding streets, talking about urban tree selection for seasonal interest and climate resilience.
