IT, Communication Systems & Monitoring Policy

1. ABOUT THIS POLICY

- 1.1 Our IT and communications systems are intended to promote effective communication and working practices within our organisation. This policy outlines the standards you must observe when using these systems, the circumstances in which we will monitor your use, and the action we will take if you breach these standards.
- 1.2 The Board of Trustees has overall responsibility for this policy, including keeping it under review.
- 1.3 This policy covers all employees, officers, consultants, contractors, volunteers, interns, casual workers, agency workers and anyone who has access to our IT and communication systems.
- 1.4 Misuse of IT and communications systems can damage the business and our reputation. Breach of this policy may be dealt with under our Disciplinary Procedure and, in serious cases, may be treated as gross misconduct leading to summary dismissal.
- 1.5 This policy does not form part of any employee's contract of employment and we may amend it at any time.

2. PERSONNEL RESPONSIBLE FOR THE POLICY

- 2.1 Our board of trustees (the board) has overall responsibility for the effective operation of this policy and for ensuring compliance with the relevant statutory framework. Day-to-day responsibility for operating the policy and ensuring its maintenance and review has been delegated to The Chief Executive Officer
- 2.2 Managers have a specific responsibility to ensure the fair application of this policy and all members of staff are responsible for supporting colleagues and ensuring its success.
- 2.3 The Admin Manager will deal with requests for permission or assistance under any provisions of this policy, and may specify certain standards of equipment or procedures to ensure security and compatibility.

3. EQUIPMENT SECURITY AND PASSWORDS

- 3.1 You are responsible for the security of the equipment allocated to or used by you, and must not allow it to be used by anyone other than in accordance with this policy. You should use passwords on all IT equipment, particularly items you take out of the office. You should keep your passwords confidential and change them regularly.

- 3.2 You are responsible for the security of any computer terminal used by you. You should lock your terminal or log off when leaving it unattended or on leaving the office, to prevent unauthorised users accessing the system in your absence. Anyone who is not authorised to access our network should only be allowed to use terminals under supervision.
- 3.3 Desktop PCs and cabling for telephones or computer equipment should not be moved or tampered with without first consulting the Admin Manager
- 3.4 You should use passwords on all IT equipment, particularly items that you take out of the office. You must keep your passwords confidential and change them regularly. You must not use another person's username and password or make available or allow anyone else to log on using your username and password unless authorised by the Admin Manager. On the termination of employment (for any reason) you must provide details of your passwords to the Admin Manager and return any equipment, key fobs or cards.
- 3.5 Passwords should not be saved to any device at any time.
- 3.6 If you have been issued with a laptop, PDA or mobile phone, you must ensure that it is kept secure at all times, especially when travelling. Passwords must be used to secure access to data kept on such equipment to ensure that confidential data is protected in the event of loss or theft. You should also be aware that when using equipment away from the workplace, documents may be read by third parties, for example, passengers on public transport.
- 3.7 You must only log on to our systems using your own username and password. You must not use another person's username and password or allow anyone else to log on using your username and password.
- 3.8 If you are away from your desk you should log out or lock your computer. You must log out and shut down your computer at the end of each working day.

4. SYSTEMS AND DATA SECURITY

- 4.1 You should not delete, destroy or modify existing systems, programs, information or data (except as authorised in the proper performance of your duties).
- 4.2 You must not download or install software from external sources without authorisation from the Admin Manager. Downloading unauthorised software may interfere with our systems and may introduce viruses or other malware. This includes software programs, instant messaging programs, screensavers, photos, video clips and music files. Incoming files and data should always be virus-checked by the Admin Manager before they are downloaded. If in doubt, staff should seek advice from the The Admin Manager.
- 4.3 You must not attach any device or equipment to our systems without authorisation from the Admin Manager. This includes any USB flash drive, MP3 or similar device, PDA or telephone, whether connected via the USB port, infra-red connection port or in any other way.

- 4.4 We monitor all e-mails passing through our system for viruses. You should exercise particular caution when opening unsolicited e-mails from unknown sources. If an e-mail appears suspicious (for example, if it contains a file whose name ends in .exe), do not reply to it, open any attachments or click any links to it. Inform the Admin Manager immediately if you suspect your computer may have a virus. We reserve the right to delete or block access to e-mails or attachments in the interests of security. We also reserve the right not to transmit any e-mail message.
- 4.5 You should not attempt to gain access to restricted areas of the network, or to any password-protected information, except as authorised in the proper performance of your duties.
- 4.6 If you use laptops or Wi-Fi enabled equipment, you must be particularly vigilant about its use outside the office and take such precautions as we may require from time to time against importing viruses or compromising system security. The system contains information which is confidential to our business and/or which is subject to data protection legislation. Such information must be treated with extreme care and in accordance with our Privacy Standard.

5. E-MAIL

- 5.1 Although e-mail is a vital business tool, you should always consider if it is the appropriate method for a particular communication. Correspondence with third parties by e-mail should be written as professionally as a letter. Messages should be concise and directed only to relevant individuals. Our standard footer should always be included. Hard copies of e-mails should be kept on the relevant file as appropriate.
- 5.2 Remember that e-mails can be used in legal proceedings and that even deleted e-mails may remain on the system and be capable of being retrieved.
- 5.3 You should access your e-mails at least once every working day, stay in touch by remote access when travelling in connection with our business, and use an out of office response when away from the office for more than a day. You should endeavour to respond to e-mails marked “high priority” within 24 hours.
- 5.4 You must not send abusive, obscene, discriminatory, racist, harassing, derogatory, defamatory, pornographic or otherwise inappropriate e-mails. Anyone who feels that they have been harassed or bullied, or are offended by material received from a colleague via e-mail should inform their line manager.
- 5.5 You should take care with the content of e-mail messages, as incorrect or improper statements can give rise to claims for discrimination, harassment, defamation, breach of confidentiality or breach of contract. Staff should assume that e-mail messages may be read by others and not include anything which would offend or embarrass any reader, or themselves, if it found its way into the public domain.

5.6 E-mail messages may be disclosed in legal proceedings in the same way as paper documents. Deletion from a user's inbox or archives does not mean that an e-mail cannot be recovered for the purposes of disclosure. All e-mail messages should be treated as potentially retrievable, either from the main server or using specialist software.

5.7 In general, you should not:

- (a) send or forward private e-mails at work which you would not want a third party to read;
- (b) send or forward chain mail, junk mail, cartoons, jokes or gossip;
- (c) contribute to system congestion by sending trivial messages or unnecessarily copying or forwarding e-mails to those who do not have a real need to receive them;
- (d) sell or advertise using our communication systems or broadcast messages about lost property, sponsorship or charitable appeals; the message board public folder should be used for these purposes;
- (e) agree to terms, enter into contractual commitments or make representations by e-mail unless appropriate authority has been obtained. A name typed at the end of an e-mail is a signature in the same way as a name written at the end of a letter;
- (f) download or e-mail text, music and other content on the internet subject to copyright protection, unless it is clear that the owner of such works allows this;
- (g) send messages from another person's e-mail address (unless authorised) or under an assumed name; or
- (h) send confidential messages via e-mail or the internet, or by other means of external communication which are known not to be secure.

5.8 You should return any wrongly-delivered e-mail received to the sender.

5.9 Do not use your own personal e-mail account to send or receive e-mail for the purposes of our business. Only use the e-mail account we have provided for you.

5.10 We do not permit access to web based personal e-mail such as Gmail or Hotmail on our computer systems at any time due to additional security risks.

6. USING THE INTERNET

6.1 When a website is visited, devices such as cookies, tags or web beacons may be employed to enable the site owner to identify and monitor visitors. If the website is of a kind described in paragraph 9.2, such a marker could be a source of embarrassment to the visitor and us, especially if inappropriate material has been accessed, downloaded, stored or forwarded from the website. Such actions may also, in certain circumstances, amount to a criminal offence if, for example, the material is pornographic in nature.

- 6.2 Internet access is provided for business purposes. Occasional Personal use may be permitted as set out in Paragraph 7 You should not access any web page or download any image, document or other file from the internet which could be regarded as illegal, offensive, in bad taste or immoral. Even web content that is legal in the UK may be in sufficient bad taste to fall within this prohibition. As a general rule, if any person (whether intended to view the page or not) might be offended by the contents of a page, or if the fact that our software has accessed the page or file might be a source of embarrassment if made public, then viewing it will be a breach of this policy.
- 6.3 You should not under any circumstances use our systems to participate in any internet chat room, post messages on any internet message board or set up or log text or information on a blog or wiki, even in your own time-
- 6.4 The following may only be accessed from the network in the course of your work and not for personal use online radio, audio and video streaming, instant messaging and webmail (such as Hotmail, Gmail or Yahoo) and social networking sites (such as Facebook, Meta, Instagram, YouTube, Twitter, Snapchat). This list may be modified from time to time.
- 6.5 We may block or restrict access to some websites at our discretion.

7. PERSONAL USE OF OUR SYSTEMS

- 7.1 We permit the incidental use of our internet (using your own device), and telephone systems to browse the internet and make personal telephone calls subject to certain conditions set out below. Personal use is a privilege and not a right. It must not be overused or abused. We may withdraw permission for it at any time or restrict access at our discretion.
- 7.2 Personal use must meet the following conditions:
- (a) use must be minimal and take place substantially outside of normal working hours (that is during lunch breaks or before or after work);
  - (b) use must not affect your work or interfere with business or office commitments;
  - (c) use must not commit us to any marginal costs; and
  - (d) use must comply with our policies including the Equal Opportunities Policy, Anti-harassment Policy, Privacy Standard and Disciplinary Procedure (see paragraph 5 and paragraph 6).
- 7.3 You should be aware that personal use of our systems may be monitored (see paragraph 8) and, where breaches of this policy are found, action may be taken under the disciplinary procedure (see paragraph 9). We reserve the right to restrict or prevent access to certain telephone numbers or internet sites if we consider personal use to be excessive.

8. MONITORING

8.1 Our systems enable us to monitor telephone, e-mail, voicemail, internet and other communications. For business reasons, and in order to carry out legal obligations in our role as an employer, your use of our systems including the telephone and computer systems, and any personal use of them, may be continually monitored by automated software or otherwise. Monitoring is only carried out to the extent permitted or as required by law and as necessary and justifiable for business purposes.

8.2 We reserve the right to retrieve the contents of e-mail messages or check internet usage (including pages visited and searches made) as reasonably necessary in the interests of the business, including for the following purposes (this list is not exhaustive):

Incidental personal use is permissible provided it is in full compliance with our rules, policies and procedures (including this policy, the Equal Opportunities Policy, Anti-harassment Policy, Privacy Standard and Disciplinary Procedure). See paragraph 7, Personal use of systems.

9.2 Misuse or excessive personal use of our telephone system or inappropriate internet use will be dealt with under our Disciplinary Procedure. Misuse of the internet can in some circumstances be a criminal offence. In particular, misuse of the e-mail system or inappropriate use of the internet by participating in online gambling or chain letters or by creating, viewing, accessing, transmitting or downloading any of the following material will usually amount to gross misconduct (this list is not exhaustive):

- (a) pornographic material (that is, writing, pictures, films and video clips of a sexually explicit or arousing nature);
- (b) offensive, obscene, or criminal material or material which is liable to cause embarrassment to us or to our clients;
- (c) a false and defamatory statement about any person or organisation;
- (d) material which is discriminatory, offensive, derogatory or may cause embarrassment to others (including material which breaches our Equal Opportunities Policy or our Anti-harassment and Bullying Policy);
- (e) confidential information about us or any of our staff or clients (except as authorised in the proper performance of your duties);
- (f) unauthorised software;

- (g) any other statement which is likely to create any criminal or civil liability (for you or us); or
- (h) music or video files or other material in breach of copyright.

Any such action will be treated very seriously and is likely to result in summary dismissal.

9.3 Where evidence of misuse is found we may undertake a more detailed investigation in accordance with our Disciplinary Procedure, involving the examination and disclosure of monitoring records to those nominated to undertake the investigation and any witnesses or managers involved in the Disciplinary Procedure. If necessary such information may be handed to the police in connection with a criminal investigation.
