Welcome to Mays edition of the client newsletter.

Lots happening this month as we extend our opening days of our Lyminge Dementia Daybreak service from 3 to 5 days a week.

We are also looking set to start our COG's group in the Hythe centre, which is for those experiencing any form of memory loss. Learn techniques to help and get support from others in the same boat.

Our shed in Lyminge has been delivered and the potting shed for our gardening group in Hythe is now also in place, just in time for the right weather to start enjoying our outside spaces. Days and times of these groups to be confirmed.

Creative writing...

A few months ago, I sent out an appeal for your creative writing and I have had a response! Have a read of this ditty by our resident ghost writer:

Our cook in the kitchen comes all the way from the Hitchen.

Her name is Sing and she can cook anything.

She fell over the mat and cooked the cat.

We all said, "oh what a shame" and the dog said, "oy what's your game?"

We are okay, were safe, she won't cook people anymore because last week she cooked dear Aunt Nell, who gave off the most terrible, horrible, stinky smell.

She was called to the office where the Boss said, "Leave our kitchen and go right back to Hitchen. Don't even attempt to return to our Hythe Age UK Kitchen."

Thank you very much M.H for your submission!

Hythe Citizen of the Year

Congratulations to our volunteer Miles Hood who was nominated for the Mayors Hythe citizen of the year award. Miles was awarded runner up and was up against tough competition, I am sure you will join us in congratulating Miles on this fantastic recognition of his contribution to the local community.

Creative groups

We hope you have enjoyed our new creative groups.

Some of the creations made have been brilliant!

I'm looking forward to seeing the finished fired creations from the Lyminge clay modelling group

Just for fun

Who is the middle child?

Jeff is younger than Rodney but older than Debbie.

Larry is older than Erica who is older than Jeff. Rodney is older than Larry.

If you think you know the answer let me know!

Well done to Pat B who correctly guessed last month's answer which was "Message".

Information and Advice corner

£3.5bn worth of Housing Benefit and Pension Credit goes unclaimed by older people every year, even though they're entitled to it.
