Important Fraud Advice

Please remember that the police or your bank will never ask you to provide your PIN or personal banking details, withdraw money, transfer funds, or hand over your bank card. If you receive a call you are unsure about, hang up and contact the organisation using a trusted number.

Scammers appear to be calling from a cloned number so when called back, it goes through to Norfolk Police switchboard. If you receive a call from an officer and wish to check their identity, we advise hanging up and calling 101 - ideally from a different phone. An officer will never mind waiting for you to check their identity via the control room.

Your bank or the police will NEVER ask for your PIN, bank card or bank account details over the phone –do not give these details to anybody.

West Norfolk Library Roadshow with Kate Doe, Community Development Worker (West)

Throughout November, we'll be getting out into libraries across West Norfolk to meet local people, have conversations and hear more about what matters in their communities.

We'll be asking simple questions such as:

What makes your community special?
What matters to you locally?
What would you like to see happening?

It's a chance for people to share ideas, make connections and find out about activities, opportunities and support already available locally.

We'll be at:

King's Lynn Library: Tuesday 3 November

Downham Market Library: Thursday 12 November

Dersingham Library: Wednesday 18 November

Gaywood Library: Monday 23 November

Hunstanton Library: Friday 27 November

All sessions are open to the public 11am to 2pm.

Please feel free to pop along for a chat.

Priority Services Register for UK Power Networks

What is in the emergency box and how can I request them?

Our emergency boxes are designed for customers who are medically dependant on electricity.

The box contains:

Advice on what to do during a power cut
A power cut torch with a battery life of four hours which turns on in the event of a power cut
Lions Message in a bottle – this scheme encourages people to keep their emergency information on a standard card. The bottle is then stored in the fridge and you will also receive two labels which should be displayed on the inside of the front door or main entrance to your home and the other on your fridge. This helps the emergency services easily find this information in the event of being called to you home.
A room temperature guide

What help should I expect from being on the Priority Services Register?

Support during a power cut:

A priority number that you can call 24 hours a day
Text and voice message alerts, letting you know when we are aware of a large power cut in your area
Tailored support if needed such as home visits, hot meals, advice and keeping your friends and relatives updated
Where possible we will send you text and voice messages when we expect severe weather to help you prepare
In certain scenarios we may also offer a free hotel overnight and transport to the hotel
For complex power cuts our community welfare teams provide on-site support which includes hot drinks, hot meals, a wifi connection and charge points

Read through our helpful advice on what to do during a power cut.

Additional support:

For your peace of mind, we can contact someone on your behalf and if you would like us to we can agree a security password to keep you safe
We can put you in touch with an expert who can offer you advice on energy bills and energy saving tips

Who can sign up?

You can register if you or someone in your household:

relies on medical equipment have refrigerated medicines have a serious or chronic illness have a disability
is living with dementia are of pensionable age have children under five in your household have mental health difficulties

We recognise that people may also need support because of life-changing events such as bereavement, relationship breakdown, job loss, recovery from hospital treatment or living independently for the first time. Alzheimer's Society Companionship Service

Our Companionship Service connects people affected by dementia with trained volunteers for regular, supportive calls, helping to reduce loneliness and build meaningful social connections.

At the heart of the service are one-to-one Companion Calls, offering consistent, friendly contact and emotional support from someone who takes the time to get to know you. Participants can also choose to join facilitated online group conversations and access our Dementia Support Forum, providing additional opportunities to connect with others who understand their experiences.

The service is flexible, so you can choose the level of support that feels right for you. Whether you're looking for regular companionship, a sense of community, or simply someone to talk to, we're here to help.

How our Companionship Service works

You can choose regular one-to-one Companion Calls with a trained volunteer, with the option to also take part in facilitated online group conversations if that feels right for you. Calls remain at the heart of the Companionship service, offering reliable, friendly contact and emotional support.

Companionship is designed to help reduce loneliness and provide reassurance through meaningful social connection. You don't have to use every option – we'll help you choose what works best for you.

Ways to connect through Companionship

One-to-one Companion Calls: Regular, often weekly, friendly conversations with the same trained volunteer, offering a consistent connection and someone who gets to know you.
Weekly online groups: One-hour groups each week. Join when you'd like – you can dip in and out depending on how you're feeling.
Online forum: The Dementia Support Forum is a separate online community, available anytime, where anyone affected by dementia can connect with others. You'll need to register to become a member.

You don't have to commit to all three options. Let us know what interests you and we'll guide you through the next steps.

What to expect from our Companionship Services

Warm, volunteer-led companionship
Flexible access depending on your needs

Regular Companion Calls, with optional online group conversations
Availability across England, Wales and Northern Ireland
Our Companionship Services aren't clinical or crisis care. Online elements require internet access.

Sign up for Companionship

If you're unsure which option suits you best, fill out the form and we'll assist you in making a choice.

Companionship provides warmth and connection through friendly, volunteer-led conversations.

For expert advice, information and support about dementia, you can contact Alzheimer's Society's Dementia Support Line on 0333 150 3456, where trained Dementia Advisers are available to listen and help.

Support at Stalham Baptist Church

Stalham Baptist Church has opened a Memories café in its refurbished School Room.

It is open on the last Monday of the month 10am to 12 Noon.

It aims to provide a welcoming social space where people with memory loss, and their carers, can gather to have a cuppa, enjoy a range of activities, make new friends and enhance their quality of life.

This provides an opportunity to meet others who face similar problems. Activities include games, music, jigsaws, painting, knitting, and baking. There are also "memory books" which can prompt those attending to reminisce.

Other groups at the Church include an over 55's group, a bereavement support group and warm space.

Rosedale Bereavement Support

In person and online bereavement support in Norfolk and Suffolk

Our trained bereavement support group facilitators, Lucy, Amanda and Andrew run our groups in our Norfolk and Suffolk communities throughout the year and they also offers an online bereavement support programme.

The bereavement support groups follow the eight week Rosedale Bereavement Support Programme and each participant will receive their own bereavement support booklets.

Held in Diss and Wymondham

Online bereavement support in Norfolk and Suffolk

At Rosedale Funeral Home, we have been offering face-to-face bereavement support groups for over a decade, and these valuable in-person sessions will continue to be available. However, we understand that not everyone is able to attend due to work schedules, childcare responsibilities, or transport difficulties.

To ensure our support is accessible to more people, we now offer an online bereavement support group that provides the same compassionate care in the comfort of your own home. This eight-week programme is held via Zoom from 5.30pm to 7.00pm and is open to all adults (18+) living in South Norfolk and North Suffolk. Sessions are run several times a year based on demand.

Norfolk Adult Care and Support Guide

The 2026 edition of your guide to care and support for adults has now been published. You can access it here

www.norfolk.gov.uk/careservices

There is information about how to get help and support, what kind of services are available and details of other organisations that can help. It is available for free in libraries, GP surgeries and other places across Norfolk.

Falls Prevention Information from ROSPA

In addition to removing hazards that could cause a trip, engaging in regular physical activity, to develop and maintain strength and balance, is also particularly important as we get older. Exercises designed to improve muscle strength, some of which are highlighted in the video, can reduce the risk of a fall by improving posture, coordination and balance.

Lions Message in a Wallet

Link to website-Message in a Wallet - LIONS DISTRICT 105CE

All Lions clubs have been associated with the Message in a Bottle scheme which was launched several years ago, however a relatively new project to supplement the Bottle scheme is now available via the Message In A Wallet. The Wallet scheme which has a similar form as in the bottles to contain an individual's Medical, Allergy details and contact details in an emergency etc. which is then contained in a plastic sleeve (credit card size) and placed in a Wallet, Purse or Handbag. The advantage of this scheme being if you are away from home and are in need of urgent medical treatment your details are readily available with you.

The Wallets have been recognised by the Emergency Services as another Lions project that assists them when an individual is in need of urgent medical treatment by notifying them of medication already prescribed and any allergies.

The Wallets have been readily accepted by all sections of the community including younger people who believe the wallets offer a service to everyone.

If you require further information about please contact us by email: health@lions105ce.org.uk

Mental Health Support

Let's talk about death and dying - discover how to be a Compassionate Friend...

You can be a Compassionate Friend?

We all know people who are going through a difficult time due to ill-health, care-giving, loss or bereavement. We often want to offer support, but don't always have the words or know how we can help. Becoming a compassionate friend will help to build the skills and confidence needed.

Our workshops cover:

- Understanding what a compassionate community is
- Dispelling myths and taboos about death and dying
- Communication skills and how to use them effectively
- Practical ways you can support or the offer of a friendly ear to make a difference

Household Energy Payment

https://www.gov.uk/government/news/what-the-autumn-budget-2026-means-for-your-energy-bills

The Household Energy Payment will provide a £100 payment to households in Council Tax bands A to D in England, to help with their energy costs.

Up to 20 million households will be eligible, including an estimated 83% of fuel stressed households in England, and 88% of households in the bottom three income deciles.

The payments will be made from January 2027.

Who is eligible?

Households in England are eligible for the Household Energy Payment if they are liable for council tax on, and live in, a property in council tax bands A to D as their main home.

This will include most households exempt from council tax, with full eligibility criteria to be published in due course.

Second homes, empty properties or households where the householder isn't responsible for paying council tax are not eligible.

How do I find out what council tax band I'm in?

You can check by visiting Check your Council Tax band.

Do I need to do anything to claim the rebate?

If you pay by direct debit and live in bands A to D, you don't need to do anything – the rebate will be paid directly into your bank account.

If you don't pay by direct debit, your council will invite you to apply for the rebate directly.

Nobody other than your council should get in touch asking you to claim the rebate. Only give out your personal information if you are certain it is your local council contacting you. If you're unsure whether a message is genuine, double check with your council.

What if I'm not eligible, but need support with my energy bills?

We know that not all households struggling with their energy bills live in bands A to D.

That's why we're providing an additional £100 million for local authorities to provide discretionary support to these households who are not eligible for the £100 rebate.

If you receive means-tested benefits, you may also be eligible for the £150 Warm Home Discount. You can check if you're eligible here: Warm Home Discount Scheme: Overview - GOV.UK

How can I apply for support from my council's discretionary fund?

Local councils will be responsible for setting their eligibility criteria for the discretionary fund and making sure it benefits households who most need support.

Your local council will make information on eligibility and how you can apply available on their website, once local arrangements are in place.

If you are unsure, please contact your local council directly. You can check who your local council is by visiting Find your local council.

Energy debt circuit breaker

I'm in energy debt – what are you doing to support me?

In the short term, we will provide targeted, one-off debt relief for vulnerable households, provided they re-engage with their supplier through the Debt Relief Scheme.

And in the longer term, we will tackle the root causes of energy debt and take practical steps to prevent debt building up again.

Will I be eligible for support through the Debt Relief Scheme?

If the energy billpayer in your household is on means-tested benefits, disability benefits, or is a pensioner, and you have built up debt since the energy crisis of 2022-4, you will be eligible to have your debt written off through the Debt Relief Scheme, provided you take steps to re-engage with paying your debt.
