North Oxford home OX2 (Ref 028)

Would you like to share a comfortable home in North Oxford (outside the ringroad) with a friendly, welcoming couple (and two cats!)? The house is a short walk to a lovely local park.

The Householders enjoy classical music, museums, concerts, cooking, chess, jigsaws, gardening, keeping up with current affairs and eating out from time to time.

The husband's mobility and speech has been affected by a stroke. He uses a wheelchair but walks in the house as much as he can. His wife maintains an active lifestyle and is the main carer. They have family living close by.

This would suit a friendly person who would help with household tasks, some cooking and would enjoy sharing meals together from time to time. Someone who might like to accompany on a park stroll or museum visits would be welcome. Having the reassurance of there being someone in the house most nights is very important.

A driver would be a bonus (with the possibility of using the owners' car) to help with lifts from time to time. A chess player would also be a bonus!
