

Low cost accommodation in Oxfordshire in return for a helping hand

Homeshare Oxford personally matches older people who have a spare room in their house, and who need practical help or companionship with a person needing affordable accommodation, happy to lend a hand and would enjoy sharing the home of an older person.

In return for accommodation, the Sharer gives (up to) 10 hours of help / companionship per week, pays a fee £200 per month to Homeshare Oxford, plus a contribution towards household costs.

Oxford, Risinghurst home OX3 (Ref 026)

Would you like to live in Risinghurst, a convenient location near ring road, transport and hospitals?

The Householder is involved in the Quakers, the Peace Movement and interested in current affairs and social justice. She enjoys classical music and reading. She is active, sociable, independent and has family living close by.

The homeowner would enjoy easy going companionship and some shared (vegetarian) meals from time to time. Help with IT and some light housework would also be welcome. A car driver, for occasional lifts to places, would be a bonus, but not essential.

This Homeshare would particularly suitable for a friendly, independent person who might share some similar interests and would be happy to live in a vegetarian home.

North Oxford home OX2 (Ref 028)

Would you like to share a comfortable home in North Oxford (outside the ringroad) with a friendly, welcoming couple (and two cats!)? The house is a short walk to a lovely local park.

The Householders enjoy classical music, museums, concerts, cooking, chess, jigsaws, gardening, keeping up with current affairs and eating out from time to time.

The husband's mobility and speech has been affected by a stroke. He uses a wheelchair but walks in the house as much as he can. His wife maintains an active lifestyle and is the main carer. They have family living close by.

This would suit a friendly person who would help with household tasks, some cooking and would enjoy sharing meals together from time to time. Someone who might like to accompany on a park stroll or museum visits would be welcome. Having the reassurance of there being someone in the house most nights is very important.

A driver would be a bonus (with the possibility of using the owners' car) to help with lifts from time to time. A chess player would also be a bonus!

Goring-on-Thames cottage, OX10 (Ref 024)

There is an opportunity to share a spacious cottage in Goring-on-Thames, six miles from Wallingford and 13 minutes by train to Reading. The area is close to the beautiful Ridgeway and Chilterns.

The homeowner is a friendly and active person. She has an interest in music, sewing and local church activities. She lives independently and would enjoy having someone to provide a reassuring presence especially at night.

This would suit a friendly and kind person who has some free times in the evenings and weekends to share company and who would enjoy a small dog being around.

Central Witney home OX28 (Ref 020)

Would you like to share the spacious home of a friendly, independent person who is interested in art, gardening, education, theatre and cinema? She is actively involved with voluntary work with refugees and the with peace movement.

This would suit a friendly, helpful person who would enjoy sharing company and some meals together, and would be happy to help with light lifting eg moving the odd box or item of furniture and putting out the rubbish.

A driver would be ideal for occasional lifts (could use Householder's car).

Dorchester-on-Thames cottage, OX10 (Ref 022)

Would you like to share a comfortable home in Dorchester-on-Thames, eight miles south of Oxford and close to shops, transport and the beautiful Oxfordshire countryside.

The homeowner is a friendly, sociable and active person. She lives independently with some memory impairment. She is interested current affairs, human rights, Africa and is actively involved in the church. This would suit a friendly and kind person who has some evenings free to share mealtimes and could help with day to day household tasks.

Sutton Courtenay home, OX14 (Ref 023)

There is an opportunity to share a comfortable and spacious home in the pretty village of Sutton Courtenay, three miles south of Abingdon and a mile from Culham.

This gentle homeowner enjoys a peaceful home, is interested in classical music and is involved in the local church. She is living independently with some memory impairment and has family living fairly close by.

The homeowner would like some companionship and to share meals from time to time. A car driver, able to help with lifts to shops and appointments, would be ideal.

This would suit an independent and understanding person.
