Drawing Challenge

Draw:

- Something little
- Something you cherish
- A meal

It's up to you what you draw with these challenges, it can mean something different for you than it might be for someone else.

Use different forms if you have them paint, pencils, felt tips, chalk, crayons. These can be helpful to layer up and bring texture if they suit your drawing.

Read: The zen of housework by Al Zolynas

I look over my own shoulder down my arms to where they disappear under water into hands inside pink rubber gloves moiling among dinner dishes.

My hands lift a wine glass, holding it by the stem and under the bowl.
It breaks the surface like a chalice rising from a medieval lake.

Full of the grey wine of domesticity, the glass floats to the level of my eyes.
Behind it, through the window above the sink, the sun, among a ceremony of sparrows and bare branches, is setting in Western America.

I can see thousands of droplets of steam—each a tiny spectrum—rising from my goblet of grey wine.
They sway, changing directions constantly—like a school of playful fish, or like the sheer curtain on the window to another world.

Ah, grey sacrament of the mundane!

What is the next line in the song, who sung it and what is the title?

If you change your mind, I'm the first in line

Well, I was there and I saw what you did, I saw it with my own two eyes

Everything I want the world to be, is now comin' true especially for me

Sugar pie honey bunch I'm weaker than a man should be

At last, my love has come along

Uptown girl, she's been living in her uptown world

I've taken my bows, And my curtain calls

Bad dreams in the night, you told me I was going to lose the fight

Red light spells danger, can't hold out much longer

L.A. proved too much for the man, so he's leaving a life he's come to know, ooh

Make some faux stained-glass hangings

What you need:

Wax paper

Paint

Bottle lid

Card stock

Paint brush

Piece of kitchen roll

PVA glue

What to do:

1. Dab paint all over the wax paper. Splat it on nice and thick. The closer together your paint dots are, the better it is for blending the colours together in the next step.
2. Next, using the plastic lid, press and twist the lid into the paint, blending the dots together.
3. Occasionally swipe the lid against a piece of paper to clean it off, to prevent the dots from becoming too “muddy”.
4. Let them dry
5. Frame them with the card stock, attaching the wax paper with glue.
6. Hang them against a window to see the full affect.
