

What we do

Age UK South Lakeland works with local older people to help them retain their independence and exercise real choice in their lives

Sometimes the problems we face in later life can't be tackled on our own. We provide tailored information. We give one to one advice. We campaign locally. And we do much more, from organising village drop-ins to setting up lunch clubs, working with people so that they can stay living well at home.

We make a difference for the 18,000 people who use our services every year.

You can pledge your support here

Our promise Every penny donated will be used locally, and we will work hard with whatever you are able to give. We are here now to make a difference to your later life.
