Lasting Powers of Attorney

If I can't make decisions
for myself, who will?

Lasting Powers of Attorney can make things easier for you and your loved ones.

LASTING POWER OF ATTORNEY

You can't know what life has in store. With Lasting Powers of Attorney you choose who will manage your health and financial affairs and follow your wishes, if there is a time you are unable to do so yourself.

What Is A Power Of Attorney?

We are all used to making decisions for ourselves; from small things like what to have for breakfast to big things like where to live, but what happens when it becomes difficult or even impossible for you to make your own choices, through ill health or after an accident for example?

Lasting Powers of Attorney are documents that enable you, while you still have mental capacity, to appoint trusted loved one(s), whether it be a relative or good friend, as your attorney(s). There are two types of Lasting Powers of Attorney: one that will allow your attorneys to help you with financial matters and one that will help you with matters relating to your health.

Why Do I Need This?

Whatever your age, it is important to consider your future and take time now to grant Power of Attorney to someone you trust.

Like many people, you may assume a loved one will automatically be able to make decisions for you, be that a partner, spouse, child or good friend, however this simply is not true. A Power of Attorney has to be in place in order for your family or friends to make decisions on your behalf. Without Powers of Attorney, decisions that do not reflect your wishes may be made about your finances, where you live and the care you receive. Your loved ones would have to apply to court to get the legal authority to act on your behalf, which is usually lengthy, complicated and expensive.

By getting a Power of Attorney you choose someone to make future decisions on your behalf, but only if you need help or lose the ability to make decisions for yourself.

My LPA Coordinator was friendly and helpful every step of the way. She explained everything regarding the LPAs and gave me some very useful advice. I can't thank you and Age UK Surrey enough.
