Council Tax Reduction

EXTRA MONEY TO HELP YOU
Disclaimer

While we aim to ensure that the information in this document is factually correct at the time of production, Age Scotland cannot be held liable for any errors or omissions. Please ensure that you have an up to date factsheet and that it clearly applies to your situation.

No leaflet can ever be a complete guide to the law, which also changes from time to time. Legal advice should always be taken if you are in doubt.

Please note that the inclusion of named agencies, companies, products, services or publications in this factsheet does not constitute a recommendation or endorsement by Age Scotland.
What is Council Tax Reduction?

Council Tax Reduction helps people who are on a low income with the costs of the Council Tax bill for their normal home. You can claim it whether you own or rent your home and regardless of whether you are working, unemployed, retired or a carer.

Council Tax Reduction is administered by your council under regulations set by the Scottish Government.

Can I claim it?

If you are on a low income you may be able to claim Council Tax Reduction from your local council. You do not qualify if you have more than £16,000 in savings, but this savings rule does not apply if you receive the guarantee part of Pension Credit.

You may also qualify for help if your home is in band E, F, G or H and your income is less than £321 per week (single person) or £479 per week (couples). Ask your council for more information.

If you qualify, the amount will be deducted from your Council Tax bill.

How much will I get?

Council Tax Reduction is calculated based on the level of means-tested benefits for someone of your age. The amount you receive depends on:

• which benefits you receive
• your income
• your savings
• the people who live with you and the income they have
• how much Council Tax you are liable to pay
• The Council Tax band for your home.
Council Tax Reduction cannot help you with the water and sewerage charge part of your Council Tax bill.

You may qualify for more Council Tax Reduction if you receive Attendance Allowance, Disability Living Allowance, Personal Independence Payment or Carer’s Allowance.

If you do not currently receive Pension Credit, it’s a good idea to get a benefits check to make sure you are not missing out on any money. Even a small amount of Pension Credit can entitle you to other support, such as help with health costs and Cold Weather Payments. Call the Age Scotland Helpline on 0800 12 44 222 to find out if you qualify.

How to apply for Council Tax Reduction

If you want to claim Council Tax Reduction you will usually need to provide evidence of the income and savings of yourself, your partner and of other people who live with you. If you do not have all the information you need do not delay applying, complete the form as best you can and send the rest of the information within a month.

Council Tax Reduction can sometimes be backdated so it is worth asking about this when you claim. If you are State Pension age your application can be automatically backdated for 3 months.

If you can show good cause why you have not applied earlier, for example you were in hospital, your claim can be backdated for up to 6 months.

If you are receiving Council Tax Reduction and there are changes to your income or who you live with, let the council know as they may need to change the amount you receive.
Second adult rebate

Second adult rebate can reduce your council tax bill if you have to pay Council Tax and live with someone other than your partner who has a low income. If you have a partner they must be someone who is disregarded for Council Tax (for example because they are classed as severely mentally impaired).

For you to qualify, the person who lives with you must have an income of less than £268.00 before tax, over 18, not paying you rent as a sub-tenant or boarder and not paying Council Tax themselves.

To make a claim you need to give the council information about the income of the second adult; if you qualify for both Council Tax Reduction and second adult rebate the council will pay you the one that helps you most.

What if my application is turned down?

If you are not happy with the council’s decision about your claim, you can ask the council to look it again within 2 months of the decision being made. You need to write to explain why you think the decision is wrong and the council must consider your application for review within 2 months and write to you with their decision.

If you would like help to ask for a review, an advice agency such as your local Citizens Advice Bureau may be able to help you.

If you are not happy with the council’s review decision, you can apply to the Council Tax Reduction Review Panel who will conduct an independent review, you need to do this within 42 days of the council’s review decision. For more information, you can contact the Council Tax Reduction Review Panel on 0141 302 5840 or see their website counciltaxreductionreview.scotland.gov.uk
Other help with Council Tax costs

Apart from Council Tax Reduction and second adult rebate, there are other discounts and exemptions that can help with your Council Tax bill. For example, if you live alone, you are entitled to a 25% discount on your Council Tax bill, regardless of your income and savings. The 25% discount applies to the water and sewerage part of your bill too.

Other ways to reduce your council tax bill include:

- you or someone you live with has a severe mental impairment, such as dementia
- you are a long term hospital or care home resident
- you are a live-in carer and the person you care for receives particular disability benefits
- your home has adaptations that make it suitable for someone living in it who has a disability, such as an additional bathroom, kitchen or treatment room
- you normally live somewhere else

Applying for a discount

Your council may apply a discount because they already have information that shows you qualify, but you will usually have to make a claim. If you think you may qualify for a discount contact your council and ask what information they need from you to make a decision. A discount can be backdated to the date it should have first applied.
Who can help?

Age Scotland produces a Council Tax guide which provides more detailed information about council tax and the types of discount and reduction which may be available. Call Age Scotland for a copy.

Age Scotland helpline 0800 12 44 222
The Age Scotland helpline provides information, friendship and advice to older people, their relatives and carers.

If you need an interpreter call 0800 12 44 222 and simply state the language you need e.g. Polish or Urdu. Stay on the line for a few minutes and the Age Scotland helpline will do the rest.

You can call us on 0800 12 44 222 for a copy of our publications list or download copies from our website at www.agescotland.org.uk.

Citizens Advice Bureau (CAB)
Your local Citizens Advice Bureau can provide you with face-to-face information and advice. To find your local bureau call Citizens Advice Scotland on 0131 550 1000 (this number does not give advice) or see their website www.cas.org.uk.

The Scottish Government
Scottish Government information about Council tax Reduction is available on their website www.gov.scot.