Factsheet 56

Benefits for people under Pension Credit age

April 2019

About this factsheet

This factsheet gives information about benefits for people under Pension Credit age (this is continuing to rise and is 65 and 2-3 months as of April 2019 and will be 65 and 8-9 months by April 2020). It gives information about Universal Credit and how it affects people claiming other benefits and about disability and carers’ benefits. It explains how you can make a claim for these benefits.

The information in this factsheet is correct for the period April 2019 – March 2020. Benefit rates are reviewed annually and take effect in April but rules and figures can sometimes change during the year.

The information in this factsheet is applicable in England, Scotland and Wales. If you are in Northern Ireland, please contact Age NI for information. Contact details can be found at the back of this factsheet.

Contact details for any of the organisations mentioned in this factsheet can be found in the Useful organisations section.

Different types of benefits

There are different benefits that working age people can claim depending on their circumstances. We use the term ‘working age’ in this factsheet to describe anyone who is below State Pension age. This continues to rise and is 65 and 2-3 months as of April 2019 and will be 65 and 8-9 months by April 2020. You can find the date you reach State Pension age by going to www.gov.uk/state-pension-age and entering your date of birth. For more information, see factsheet 19, State Pension.

Some benefits are not dependant on income or savings and you claim them as an individual, even if you have a partner. Some benefits depend on your National Insurance record and are called contribution-based benefits. Your entitlement to these is not affected by the circumstances of your partner (if you have one) nor is it usually affected by any income or capital you have.

Other benefits are means-tested. You normally have to claim these as a couple if you have a partner living with you. A partner is your wife, husband, civil partner or someone you live with as though you were married or in a civil partnership. Your combined income and capital are added together and taken into account to work out if you are entitled.

2 Means-tested benefits

Means-tested benefits include Universal Credit, Jobseeker’s Allowance, Employment and Support Allowance, Income Support and Housing Benefit. Entitlement to these benefits is determined by your income and capital (such as savings). If you are in a couple, it is usually your joint resources that are assessed. The benefit cap applies to all benefits in this section and limits the overall amount of benefits you can be paid.

2.1 Universal Credit

Universal Credit (UC) is a non-taxable benefit to cover basic living expenses. There are additional amounts for carers and people unable to work due to sickness or disability. UC can help some people towards rent or mortgage interest payments and relevant childcare costs.

UC replaces the following six ‘legacy benefits’ payable to working age people, in or out of work:

- income-based Jobseeker’s Allowance (IB-JSA)
- income-related Employment and Support Allowance (IR-ESA)
- Income Support (IS)
- Housing Benefit (HB)
- Child Tax Credit (CTC) and Working Tax Credit (WTC) (‘tax credits’)

You can no longer make new claims for legacy benefits and you must claim UC instead. Some exceptions are listed in the relevant benefit sections below. If you receive the ‘severe disability premium’ in a legacy benefit, you cannot currently make a claim for UC, seek advice if this applies to you.

If you currently claim a legacy benefit, you can either be required to claim UC instead if you have a relevant change of circumstance or be invited to claim UC under ‘managed migration’ between July 2019 and 2024, whichever comes first. See section 2.1.2 for more information about this.

2.1.1 Basic requirements

To claim UC, you must:

- be 18 or over
- be under State Pension age (if you are a mixed age couple where one of you is over this age, you can claim PC instead – but only until the rules change on 15 May 2019, see next section)
- have a low income and capital of £16,000 or less
- be present, ‘habitually resident’ and have a ‘right to reside’ in the UK
- not be in education
- accept a Claimant Commitment.
Mixed age couples

A mixed age couple is where one person is over State Pension age and the other person is under. Currently, you have a choice and can claim either PC or UC. For most people, it is better to claim PC as your income is likely to be higher and you are not subject to UC work seeking conditions.

From 15 May 2019, the rules change so that both members of a couple have to reach State Pension age to claim PC. You can still make a claim until 13 August as PC can be backdated by up to three months.

Existing mixed age PC couples at the date of the change can stay on PC provided there is no break in your claim. Mixed age couples making a new claim after this change will have to claim UC until they both reach State Pension age.

For information about PC, see factsheet 48, Pension Credit.

2.1.2 Transfer from other benefits

If you currently claim a legacy benefit, you remain entitled until you transfer onto UC. This can happen in one of two ways:

Change of circumstances

If you have a change of circumstance which prior to UC would have meant claiming another legacy benefit, you may have to claim UC instead under 'natural migration' which terminates existing awards of legacy benefits.

Examples include if you are claiming:

- IB-JSA, IR-ESA, IS, HB or WTC and you move into or out of work
- IB-JSA and you become sick, or IR-ESA and you are no longer sick
- HB and you move to new rented accommodation in a different local authority area.

Note
If you are claiming HB when you apply for UC, you continue to receive HB for the first two weeks of your UC claim. This is not recoverable and does not affect the amount of UC you are entitled to.

If you have a change of circumstance which does not require a new claim to be made, you remain entitled to your legacy benefit. Examples include if you claim:

- a legacy benefit and become entitled to another premium or allowance
- one of the tax credits and you subsequently qualify for the other
- HB and move to new rented accommodation within the same local authority area.
There is no transitional protection if you transfer to UC due to a change of circumstance, which can mean a reduction in the overall amount of benefit you receive. If the above applies to you, seek specialist advice to consider your options.

Managed migration

If you do not transfer to UC due to a change of circumstance, you will be part of the ‘managed migration’ process between July 2019 and 2024. You will receive a letter inviting you to claim UC by a specific deadline of at least three months. If you fail to make a claim before the deadline, all legacy benefits will stop.

When transferred, if the amount you receive under UC is lower than the amount you received before, you get transitional protection to pay the higher amount until your UC award catches up, or you have a relevant change of circumstance, such as if:

- your earnings change significantly for three months or more
- you cease claiming UC.

2.1.3 How to claim

UC is designed to be claimed online, although there is provision to make a claim by telephone or face to face. Apply online at www.gov.uk/apply-universal-credit. There is a helpline for applications to allow you to ask questions - 0800 328 5644.

You must provide all necessary information and evidence to show you meet the criteria for UC. Failure to do so can lead to your application being turned down. If one partner is unable to claim (e.g. due to illness), the other partner can be allowed to claim for both of you.

Before making a claim, make sure you have details of your National Insurance number, bank account, and, if applicable, details about your partner and any dependents. You need a unique email address, as does your partner if you have one. If you have a partner, you both need to create an online account and link them together with a special code.

When an online claim is made, an online account is created with a username and password that should only be known by the claimant. This is because the account holds a great deal of personal information such as your National Insurance number and bank account details.

You can request for your claim to be backdated for up to one month if you could not reasonably have claimed earlier. After a claim is made, you must attend a local Jobcentre Plus for an interview with a work coach.

If there is a shortfall between your rent and the amount of UC you receive, you can apply to your local authority for a Discretionary Housing Payment (DHP) to make up the difference. See section 2.5.1 for more information.

For more information, see factsheet 92, Universal Credit.
2.2 Income-based Jobseeker’s Allowance

No new claims for IB-JSA are possible due to the introduction of UC. However, you may be able to claim ‘new style’ JSA if you satisfy the national insurance contribution conditions (see section 3.2).

If you currently claim IB-JSA, you will eventually be transferred onto UC as set out in section 2.1.2. Until that happens, you remain entitled to IB-JSA for as long as you satisfy the basic conditions:

- be under State Pension age
- be unemployed or working less than 16 hours a week
- be available for work, actively seeking work and have a Jobseeker’s Agreement or Claimant Commitment with Jobcentre Plus
- your income must be less than your applicable amount
- you must have less than £16,000 in capital
- your partner must be unemployed or working less than 24 hours a week
- not be in full-time education (although there are exceptions)
- be ‘habitually resident’, have a ‘right to reside’ in the UK and not be subject to immigration control, and
- be in Great Britain (JSA can be paid if you are abroad temporarily in certain situations and/or exported if you look for work in an EEA country).

Sanctions

You have to attend regular appointments at Jobcentre Plus and the Jobseeker’s Agreement can be reviewed and updated. The level of job-search activity you have to pursue increases the longer you are on JSA.

If your adviser feels you are not keeping to the Jobseeker’s Agreement, your JSA payments can be sanctioned, which means some, or all, of your benefit payment is suspended for a period of time.

You can be sanctioned if you gave up your last job voluntarily (except for voluntary redundancy) or lost it through misconduct. Hardship payments may be available if you are sanctioned – ask your adviser.

You may also be referred to job vacancies, training or employment schemes. These are usually compulsory and you can be sanctioned if you do not apply or attend.
2.3 Income-related Employment and Support Allowance

No new claims for IR-ESA are possible due to the introduction of UC. However, you may be able to claim ‘new style’ ESA if you satisfy the national insurance contribution conditions (see section 3.3).

If you currently claim IR-ESA, you will eventually be transferred onto UC as set out in section 2.1.2.

Until that happens, you remain entitled to IR-ESA for as long as you satisfy the basic conditions:

- be under State Pension age
- have a limited capability for work due to sickness or disability
- not be in work (apart from some kinds of ‘permitted work’)
- your income must be less than your applicable amount
- your capital must be less than £16,000
- your partner must not work 24 hours or more a week
- you must not be in full-time education (with some exceptions), and
- be in Great Britain, be ‘habitually resident’, have a ‘right to reside’ in the UK and not be subject to immigration control.

2.4 Income Support

No new claims for IS are possible due to the introduction of UC.

If you currently claim IS, you will eventually be transferred onto UC as set out in section 2.1.2.

Until that happens, you remain entitled to IS for as long as you remain eligible (by being a carer, by receiving Statutory Sick Pay, Incapacity Benefit or Severe Disablement Allowance, lone parent of a child under five, pregnant, or on parental leave) and satisfy the basic conditions:

- be under State Pension age
- not work 16 hours or more a week (your partner must not work 24 hours or more a week)
- your income must be below your applicable amount
- have capital less than £16,000
- not be in full-time education (although there are exceptions), and
- be ‘habitually resident’, have a ‘right to reside’ in the UK and not subject to immigration control.
2.5 Housing Benefit

HB is paid if you are liable to pay rent and have a low income. It is administered by local authorities. No new claims for HB are possible due to the introduction of UC, except if:

- you or your partner have reached State Pension age (subject to mixed age couples rule in section 2.1.1)
- you are in specified accommodation (e.g. sheltered housing schemes)

If you currently claim ‘pension age’ HB (where one or both of you have reached State Pension age) you continue to receive this as long as you remain eligible. For more information, see factsheet 17, Housing Benefit.

For all other HB claims, you will eventually be transferred onto UC as set out in section 2.1.2. Until that happens, you remain entitled to HB for as long as you satisfy the basic conditions:

- be treated as liable to pay rent
- have capital of less than £16,000
- be ‘habitually resident’, have a ‘right to reside’ in the UK and not subject to immigration control.

Additionally, you must either:

- receive a ‘passporting’ benefit such as IB-JSA, IR-ESA or IS, or
- have a low income (it does not matter whether you work or not).

2.5.1 Discretionary Housing Payments

If there is a shortfall between your rent and the amount of housing costs you receive, you can apply to your local authority for a Discretionary Housing Payment (DHP) to make up the difference in the short term.

You may be able to get a DHP if your benefit is reduced because of:

- size criteria restrictions if you have spare bedrooms
- rent officer restrictions such as local housing allowance
- non-dependant deductions
- benefit cap reductions.

You must apply by requesting a form or by writing to the authority. It is important to describe your circumstances fully and explain why you are in financial difficulty.

The local authority has discretion in whether to award a DHP and even if they do, they are usually only for a period of up to one year. There is no right of appeal if your application is refused, although you can ask for the decision to be looked at again.
2.6 Tax Credits

These are administered by HM Revenue and Customs (HMRC). Working Tax Credit (WTC) is for if you work and have low earnings. Child Tax Credit (CTC) is for if you are responsible for dependant children.

No new claims for Tax Credits are possible due to the introduction of UC. An exception is if you already receive one Tax Credit, you can make a claim for the other. If you currently claim Tax Credits, you will eventually be transferred onto UC as set out in section 2.1.2. Until that happens, you remain entitled to Tax Credits for as long as you satisfy the basic conditions.

Assessment of income and capital is on an annual basis. For the tax year 2019/20, Tax Credits you receive are an estimated amount based on either your previous year’s income or an estimate of your current income. Your award is finalised after April 2020 when your actual income for 2019/20 is known.

You can use the online Tax Credits calculator to find out how much you might be entitled to at www.gov.uk/tax-credits-calculator.

Working Tax Credit

- you are aged 25 or over and work at least 30 hours a week, or
- you work at least 16 hours a week and are single with dependant children or have a disability that puts you at a disadvantage in getting a job, or
- you work at least 16 hours a week and are aged 60 or more.

Or if you are a couple:

- one of you is 60 or over and works 16 hours a week, or
- one of you is entitled to Carer’s Allowance and works 16 hours a week, or
- one of you is disabled and works 16 hours a week, or
- one of you works at least 16 hours a week and the other cannot work because they are incapacitated, a hospital in-patient or in prison, or
- you have dependant children, work at least 24 hours between you, with at least one of you working 16 hours.

Child Tax Credit

Each child you claim for must be:

- under 16, or
- under 20 and in eligible education or training.
2.7 Council Tax Support

Council Tax Support (CTS) or Council Tax Reduction, provides financial help towards your Council Tax if you claim means-tested benefits or are on a low income. You must be liable to pay Council Tax but it does not matter if you are a tenant, home owner or other kind of resident.

If you live alone as a single person, or your home has certain adaptations for you as a disabled person, or you have a severe mental impairment, you may receive a 25 per cent discount from your Council Tax bill. For more information, see factsheet 21, Council Tax, in Wales, see Age Cymru factsheet 21w Council Tax in Wales, or in Scotland, see Age Scotland’s Council Tax guide.

In Scotland, water and sewerage charges are included in your Council Tax bill but CTS only covers the Council Tax element. The Water Charges Reduction Scheme gives you 25 per cent off water and sewerage charges if you receive full CTS and there are two or more adults in the household with no other discounts. Your local authority should do this automatically – contact them if not.

Northern Ireland has rates rather than Council Tax. There is a rate relief scheme which is assessed alongside Housing Benefit, but the rules are different from those described here. Contact Age NI for further information.

How to claim

In England, if you are under State Pension age, your local authority makes their own rules about who is entitled to CTS and decide how this should be worked out. They may take into account means-tested benefits, disability related premiums, disability or carer benefits. Contact your local authority for more information or see factsheet 21, Council Tax.

In Wales, there is more standardisation between local authorities in regard to eligibility criteria as regulations only allow them to exercise discretion in a few areas. See Age Cymru factsheet 21w, Council Tax in Wales, for more information. In Scotland, see the guide Council tax reduction.

Second Adult Rebate

If you cannot get CTS because you have excess capital or income, you may be able to get a Second Adult Rebate. This reduces your Council Tax bill by up to 25 per cent if one or more other adults (not your partner) live in your household and they have a low income. Your local authority decide whether to make a Second Adult Rebate scheme available to working age people so contact them to see if you are entitled.

There is a national scheme in Scotland but it is not available in Wales.
2.8 Benefit cap

The benefit cap limits the total amount households can receive from most benefits (including UC, HB, JSA, ESA, CTC, Child Benefit, CA, Maternity Allowance, and bereavement and widow’s allowances).

If your overall benefit income is over the capped amounts, the excess is deducted from your HB or UC award after offsetting child care costs. The monthly cap is:

- £1,284.17 (single claimants) or £1,916.67 (lone parents and couples) if you live in Greater London
- £1,116.67 (single claimants) or £1666.67 (lone parents and couples) if you live in another part of the UK.

The cap does not apply if you or anyone you claim for in your household receives, or is entitled to:

- Working Tax Credit (even if you cannot be paid it due to earnings)
- Universal Credit (limited capability for work-related activity/carer element)
- Employment and Support Allowance (support component)
- Attendance Allowance
- Disability Living Allowance
- Personal Independence Payment
- Carer’s Allowance
- Industrial Injuries Disablement Benefit
- War Pension or an Armed Forces Compensation Scheme payment.
3 National Insurance benefits

These benefits are assessed based on your National Insurance contribution record, or the contributions of your partner, or on whether you should be paying National Insurance contributions (NIC’s). They are claimed as a single person, even if you are a couple. If each person in a couple satisfies the requirements of the same benefit, you can both make an individual claim for it.

These benefits can be paid on top of other benefits, although most are counted as income when determining means-tested benefit entitlement.

3.1 Bereavement benefits

If your husband, wife, or civil partner dies, you may be able to claim Bereavement Support Payment. Entitlement is based on your partner’s NI record, but there is no NI requirement if they died as a result of an industrial accident or prescribed industrial disease.

It is available to people under State Pension age and consists of an initial lump sum payment (£2,500 or, if you have children, £3,500) and a further 18 monthly instalments (£100, or if you have children, £350).

The payments are not taxable and are disregarded when calculating entitlement to means-tested benefits and in the benefit cap.

To claim, contact the Bereavement Service on 0800 731 0469. There is a Welsh language line on 0800 731 0453. You can download a claim form from www.gov.uk/government/publications/bereavement-support-payment-claim-form or www.nidirect.gov.uk/publications/bereavement-support-payment-application-form in Northern Ireland.

3.2 ‘New style’ Jobseeker’s Allowance

This can be claimed if you are seeking work and is paid for a maximum of 26 weeks. You must have paid sufficient NICs in the last two years to qualify and you must satisfy the basic conditions of entitlement:

- be under State Pension age
- be unemployed or working less than 16 hours a week
- be available for work, actively seeking work and have a Jobseeker’s Agreement or Claimant Commitment with Jobcentre Plus
- not have an illness or disability which stops you from working
- be in Great Britain
- have the right to work in the UK.

The rate for people aged 25 or over is £73.10 a week.

In general, income and capital are not taken into account. If you have earnings (for example part-time employment or self-employment) or an occupational/personal pension, your JSA may be reduced.
Earnings are deducted in full from your JSA after a disregard of £5 a week (£20 for a few specified occupations). If you have a pension, the first £50 a week is ignored but any amount over this is deducted in full.

To claim, call Jobcentre Plus on 0800 055 6688 or apply online at www.gov.uk/how-to-claim-new-style-jsa.

3.3 ‘New style’ Employment and Support Allowance

This can be claimed if you are ill or disabled and is paid for up to 52 weeks if you are put in the work-related activity group. There is no time limit if you are put in the support group.

You usually need to have paid sufficient NIC’s in the last two tax years, although you can qualify without NICs if you received NI credits as a low-paid disabled worker or a carer. You must satisfy the basic conditions of entitlement:

- be under State Pension age
- have a limited capability for work due to sickness or disability
- not be in work (apart from some kinds of ‘permitted work’)
- be in Great Britain.

The rate for people aged 25 or over is:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Phase</th>
<th>Rate</th>
</tr>

<tbody>
<tr>
<td>First 13 weeks (assessment phase)</td>
<td>£73.10</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>After 13 weeks (main phase)</td>
<td>£73.10 (work-related activity group)</td>
</tr>
<tr>

<td>£111.65 (support group)</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

Your ESA may be reduced if you have gross income from an occupational or personal pension of more than £85 a week. For every £1 of pension over £85, you lose 50p of benefit. Other types of income and capital do not affect ESA.

To claim, call 0800 328 5644 (choose option 2, then option 6).

Work Capability Assessment

After you make a claim for ‘new style’ ESA, the DWP send you a form to complete with details of your health condition and how it affects you in relation to certain specific activities.

Once the DWP receive this back, they usually arrange for you to attend an examination, known as the Work Capability Assessment (WCA). You may be asked to attend a work-focused interview during this period.

Some people, including those with a terminal illness, do not go through the assessment phase and go straight to the main phase.
The WCA has two parts:

- limited capability for work assessment determines whether you are entitled to ESA. It assesses your ability to carry out specific everyday activities based on a points system. You have to score at least 15 points to be assessed as having a limited capability for work.

- limited capability for work-related activity assessment determines whether you are placed in the work-related activity group or support group.

If you are put in the work-related activity group, you have to meet work-related conditions which include attending work-focused interviews and taking part in work-related activities.

If you fail to comply with these conditions, you can have a sanction placed on your ESA payment until you do comply. A sanction means your ESA is reduced by an amount equal to the ESA personal allowance (currently £73.10 a week), although you are always left with 10p in payment.

3.4 Incapacity Benefit and Severe Disablement Allowance

These benefits have been abolished and are not available for new claimants. You can still receive Incapacity Benefit (IB) if you were entitled before 27 October 2008 and continue to fulfil the qualifying conditions.

You can still receive Severe Disablement Allowance (SDA) if you were entitled before 5 April 2001 and continued to fulfil the qualifying conditions.

You can continue to receive SDA after State Pension age – seek advice if you are considering this.

Both are taken into account for the benefit cap.

If you claim either and did not reach State Pension age before April 2014, you may be transferred to ESA. Seek advice if you are told to do this.

3.5 Statutory Sick Pay

If you are an employee and off work due to sickness, you are entitled to Statutory Sick Pay (SSP) for up to the first 28 weeks. SSP is administered and paid by your employer. SSP is taxable and paid at a rate of £94.25 a week. You may also be entitled contractual sick pay under the terms of your contract.

To claim, speak to your employer. If you have any problems, you can contact the HMRC statutory payment dispute team on 03000 560 630.

If you are unable to work due to sickness but not entitled to SSP, for example because you are self-employed, you may be entitled to ‘new style’ ESA instead. If you are off work for more than 28 weeks and your SSP runs out, you may be entitled to ‘new style’ ESA.
4 Other benefits

These benefits are generally claimed because of your particular circumstances or situation. They can often be claimed as well as other benefits and sometimes can increase the amount of those benefits.

4.1 Carer’s Allowance

You can claim Carer’s Allowance (CA) if you look after someone who receives a disability benefit such as Attendance Allowance, Personal Independence Payment (daily living component) or Disability Living Allowance (middle or high rate care component). You must spend at least 35 hours a week caring for them. If you work, you cannot earn more than £123 a week (net earnings or profit if self-employed).

Some means-tested benefits are paid at a higher rate if you are entitled to CA. However, the person you care for may lose money if you claim CA, so seek advice first. See factsheet 55, Carer’s Allowance, for more information.

4.2 Disability benefits

Personal Independence Payment (PIP) is a benefit for people aged 16 to State Pension age who have a disability or care needs. A similar benefit, Disability Living Allowance (DLA), may be in payment due to an earlier award. Most existing working age DLA claimants are being moved (‘migrated’) to PIP, particularly if you report a change of circumstance.

The Armed Forces Independence Payment (AFIP) is payable (instead of PIP) to service and ex-service personnel who have an Armed Forces Compensation Scheme award that includes a Guaranteed Income Payment of 50 per cent or higher.

You can receive PIP, DLA or AFIP on top of most other benefits. They are not affected by your capital or income or the circumstances of your partner (if you have one).

DLA, PIP and AFIP are not taxable and if you receive them, the amount of other benefits you are entitled to may increase.

See factsheet 87, Personal Independence Payment and Disability Living Allowance, for more information, including contact details for the Veterans Agency and information about AFIP.

If you have reached State Pension age, have care needs due to a disability or health problem, and you do not currently claim PIP, DLA or AFIP, you may be able to claim Attendance Allowance – see factsheet 34, Attendance Allowance, for more information.
4.3 Industrial Injuries Disablement Benefit

If you have been injured in an accident at work or have contracted an industrial disease, you can claim Industrial Injuries Disablement Benefit. The level of disability caused by your accident or industrial disease is assessed by a DWP doctor and expressed as a percentage. You usually have to be assessed at least 14 per cent disabled to receive a payment.

The weekly rate of benefit varies from £35.80 to £179.00 depending on your level of disablement. If assessed as 100 per cent disabled, you may qualify for extra allowances such as Constant Attendance Allowance or Exceptionally Severe Disablement Allowance.

Industrial injuries benefits are paid on top of other benefits but taken into account as income when calculating means-tested benefits. Industrial injuries benefits are not taxable and you do not have to prove an employer was negligent to qualify.

Contact the Barnsley Industrial Injuries Disablement Benefit centre on 0800 121 8379. You can download a form from www.gov.uk/industrial-injuries-disablement-benefit/how-to-claim. You may also be able to claim compensation and you should seek legal advice.

4.4 War pensions

If you became disabled through serving in the armed forces, you may be able to claim a pension, allowance and/or compensation. There are some pensions payable to war widows, widowers or surviving civil partners. In some circumstances, an unmarried partner or same-sex partner who was not a civil partner can qualify.

For more information contact the Veterans UK or see online at www.gov.uk/government/organisations/veterans-uk.

4.5 Healthcare costs

Depending on your income and savings, you may be entitled to help with healthcare costs through the 'NHS low income scheme'. For example NHS prescriptions, dental care and glasses. For more information, see factsheet 61, Help with health costs, or in Wales, see Age Cymru factsheet 61w, Help with NHS health costs in Wales.
Social Fund, Advances of Benefit and Local Welfare Provision

The Social Fund

The Social Fund provides lump sum cash payments for extra expenses that are difficult to meet from your weekly income. These include funeral payments to help with funeral costs, Cold Weather Payments during periods of very cold weather and Winter Fuel Payments to help with heating costs.

See factsheet 1, Help with heating costs, for more details (or the equivalent versions in Wales and Scotland). Contact your local Jobcentre Plus office to make an application to the Social Fund or download a claim form from the Gov.uk website.

Budgeting Loans and Advances of Benefit

Budgeting Loans help with the cost of items you cannot afford and have to be repaid from your benefit entitlement. To apply, you must have received income-based JSA, income-related ESA, Income Support or PC for 26 weeks. If you claim UC, you can apply for a budgeting advance instead.

Local Welfare Provision

Local Welfare Provision replaced the discretionary Social Fund for people facing a crisis or short-term unavoidable need in 2013. These are run by local authorities or the Welsh, Scottish or NI governments and may be a loan rather than a grant.

For more information about the social fund, budgeting loans, advances of benefit and local welfare provision see factsheet 49, The Social Fund, Advances of Benefit and Local Welfare Provision. In Scotland, see The Scottish Welfare Fund guide.

Back to work benefits

If you start full-time work after a period of claiming income-based JSA, income-related ESA or Income Support your benefit payments may not stop immediately.

If you claimed Housing Benefit as well as the other benefit, you may be entitled to four week extended payments of Housing Benefit. You may also be entitled to extended payments of Council Tax Support. Contact your local authority for more information.

If you start work after a period on UC, you may still receive an amount of UC if your earnings are low. However, if you were getting help towards your mortgage through your UC award, this stops as soon as you do any work, regardless of your earnings.
7 Where to apply for benefits

The Government department with responsibility for social security benefits is the Department for Work and Pensions (DWP). Note that:

- most working age benefits are administered by local Jobcentre Plus offices, although you usually need to speak to DWP call centre staff and for some benefits, you can claim online
- employers are responsible for paying benefits to employees such as Statutory Sick Pay
- Personal Independence Payment, Disability Living Allowance, and Carer’s Allowance are dealt with by the Disability and Carers Service, part of the DWP
- Housing Benefit and Council Tax Support are dealt with by your local authority
- Tax Credits, Child Benefit and Guardian’s Allowance are administered by HM Revenue and Customs.

8 Challenging a decision

You have the right to appeal against many decisions involved in the benefit system, such as if your claim is refused.

It is important to challenge a decision or get advice promptly because there are time limits that usually mean you must act within one month of the decision. You must normally ask for a Mandatory Reconsideration before you can lodge an appeal with HM Courts and Tribunals Service.

For more information about this, see factsheet 74, Challenging welfare benefit decisions. If you need independent advice, contact Age UK Advice or one of the independent Useful organisations listed.
